

Sponsorship Opportunities

ISC 2024 will bring together over 500 scientific attendees, industry experts, stakeholders and other participants worldwide for an in-depth discussion and exchange of new frontiers in sunflower research and industry. Event sponsorship can play an integral part for companies to promote their brands, providing them a valuable opportunity to attract potential national and international customers. Generous financial support from both public and private sectors would be greatly appreciated and will make this event more successful. We encourage various specific or exclusive sponsorships and look forward to your participation.

Major Sponsor Opportunities Available:

- Diamond                      • Gold                      • Silver
